School for Women Air Raid Wardens Opens Next Week

The next school for Women Air Raid Wardens will open next Thursday, at the Senior High School, starting at 7:30 p. m. This new course will continue on Thursday evenings only. Mrs. Russell Hamlet, head of the Women's division of the Arlington Committee on Public Safety, announces that there is an urgent need for many more Arlington women to enroll and prepare to serve this community as air raid wardens. Those who are interested are requested to register before the school opens at the Defense Center, located in police headquarters, Central street, opposite Town Hall.

The standard first aid course, which is a "must" for all air raid wardens, will be given at some time convenient to those who attend the school. The time and place for this course will be decided upon after the opening of the new school.

At the first meeting, Mrs. Irving Brackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitch, 66 Freeman street, will tell of her experiences during the attack on Pearl Harbor. All graduate wardens are invited to attend the opening session and listen to this thrilling talk.

Further information relative to registering for the new school and concerning the duties of an air raid warden may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Frank Swett, Arlington's chief air raid warden for the women's division, at Arl. 4687-W.

Despite the downpour last Monday evening, a large number of air raid wardens from all parts of the town attended a general meeting at the Senior High School to listen to latest information concerning the co-ordination of warden activities with those of the Police and Fire departments.

One of the speakers of the evening was Fire Chief Daniel B. Tierney, who instructed the wardens in the operation of fire alarm boxes and the proper use of same. He also gave an interesting explanation of how the combined efforts of the wardens and firemen would operate during an emergency. Police Chief Archie F. Bullock gave an enlightening talk covering the co-

Arlington Women Hear from Husbands

Two Arlington women—Mrs. David Langlois and Mrs. Irving Brackett—have had news from their husbands who were in the Pacific when the first Japanese attack was made.

Mrs. Langlois, who lives at 32 Lake street and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Smith of 23 Randolph street, has heard through the Red Cross and a navy chaplain that her husband, Petty Officer David Langlois, was in the Philippines when the Japanese attacked and was ordered back to his ship. Mr. Langlois had finished his term of service in Asiatic waters and was expected home for Christmas. His wife feared that he was on his way home when war started and was among the unidentified dead.

Mrs. Brackett, who came from Honolulu two weeks ago to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fitch, 66 Freeman street, has had two letters from her husband, Lieut. Brackett, who

There is enough sand to give three halfpails to every household. The sand will be loaded on the trucks. The work of the volunteers will be to move the sand from the trucks to the containers which the householders will provide.

They will work in crews of six, each with a captain. Mr. Chamberlain suggests that fifty men volun-

SONS OF ITALY TO BUY SECOND $500 DEFENSE BOND

Announcement Made at Annual Banquet where Fervent Patriotism is Shown.

The 17th annual banquet of the Arlington Lodge, Sons of Italy, was held last Sunday evening at the Middlesex Sportsman's Club. Nearly 200 persons were present to enjoy the dinner and to manifest their patriotism to the United States. It was announced after the banquet that the lodge had already bought a $500 bond and by next Monday would buy another at the same price.

The outstanding speaker of the evening was the toastmaster, Joseph Dente, past venerable of the lodge, whose inspiring and eloquent tribute to the American flag, thrilled the heart of everyone present. He finished his eulogy by repeating the Pledge to the Flag, accompanied by those present.

Mr. Dente then introduced Rev. Nazareno Propergi of St. Anthony's, Somerville, who stated in part, "the sentiments of the Italian souls are for the United States, that we who are here as American citizens felt as though we were Americans even before we arrived in the land of promise."

FUND WORKERS START TODAY TOWARD GOAL OF $33,000

Boy Scouts Raised Fund Flag This Morning. Chairman Sampson Calls on All to Help.

With a quota of $33,000 as Arlington's share of the Greater Boston United War Fund's goal of $7,600,000 for social needs of the home front, the Red Cross and the United Service Organizations, hundreds of workers swung into action on Thursday to meet the greatest humanitarian challenge in the country's history.

The campaign was officially opened at 8 o'clock this morning, when a representative group of Arlington Boy Scouts raised the United War Fund flag on the flag pole in front of the Town Hall. There, bearing the humanitarian symbol of the Red Feather of the Community Fund and the insignia of the American Red Cross and the United Service Organization, it flies below the Stars and Stripes.

Auxiliary Police Meet Monday and Thursday Nights

The Auxiliary Police meet every Monday and Thursday evening in the George H. Lowe, Jr., auditorium of the Senior High School. On Monday evenings are assembly and lectures and on Thursdays first aid classes.

Last Monday night in spite of the storm, one hundred and seventy-three men turned out. Mr. Dellinger of Wakefield explained the purpose of the United War Fund and asked for volunteers. Lieut. Daniel J. Barry explained the duties of a police officer. Certificates of appointment were given to the men present.

Tonight immediately after the first aid classes, Town Clerk Earl Ryder will swear in the men who have received their certificates and have not been sworn in.

Urge Support of United War Fund

This year the United War Fund of Greater Boston replaces the Community Fund of yesteryear and comes before the public seeking $7,600,000; a new high to meet the new needs of a community whose country has gone to war.

In addition to the medical service, hospitalization and health dispersed by the results of past drives, the new United War Fund will include the appeals of the three other great morale-building organizations of our community, the American Red Cross, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee, and the United Service Organizations.

Because the increase is sharp and the amount large, it is the duty of each individual to give willingly and generously, doubling and tripling pledges of normal times, whenever possible.

We, therefore, urge that the people of Arlington cooperate to the fullest with the Campaign from January 22 to February 11, each one giving a total pledge that will represent his full share toward this all-important appeal. We are confident that Arlington will meet this challenge.

Insult to Boys in Service to Worry Says Mrs. Taylor

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, five of whose six sons are in the service, told the women who gathered in the vestry of the First Parish church yesterday morning to listen to her summary of current events, that to be sorry your boy was here or there or to be worried, was to insult him. "You should," she said, "be busy with a happy morale doing your regular work and helping in the Red Cross and social services, keeping your mind secure in the thought that he is in the hands of God." She also suggested that her hearers should remember that it takes eighteen civilians to maintain one soldier.

She pointed out that the Axis intervened in our peace rather than we in the war. Now we have a league for war when we resisted a league for peace. However, with

Police Get Five Tires In Second Rationing Week

The police department was granted certificates by the Tire Rationing Board last week for five tires and three tubes. Four of the tires and two of the tubes are to be used on four Chevrolet sedan prows and two tires and one tube on a Chevrolet maintenance truck. The certificates were given under classification C-2—To maintain necessary public police services.

During the first two weeks of rationing certificates have been issued for eight tires and three tubes. The town's quota for the two weeks is fourteen tires and eight tubes.

Many questions are asked with regard to the interpretation of the rationing regulations. Here are some of them and their answers:

Interpretation of Tire Rationing Regulations

Q. Are seconds of new tires or tubes "new" tires or tubes?

A. Yes.

Q. Are bicycle tires within the scope of Rationing Regulations?

A. No.

Q. Are airplane tires subject to the provisions of the Rationing Order?

A. No. No quotas apply to sales by dealers. Local boards cannot issue tire certificates for new tires or tubes in excess of the quotas assigned to them. Dealers may sell as many tires or tubes as are requested by purchasers who hold tire certificates.

Q. Can local Tire Rationing Boards charge a fee for the issuance of a tire certificate?

A. No. Exaction of a fee under color of authority in violation of regulations would be illegal and a federal offense.

Q. Can an interstate common carrier which has delivered to and deposited with various tire service stations along its route a supply of its own tires bearing its own brand to be used to service its own trucks under a service contract with the local agency obtain such tires from the local station?

A. This depends upon whether the release of tires amounts to a delivery or transfer within the contemplation of the order. Opinion reserved for written submission of facts.

Q. Can tires in possession of seller on which full payment has been made be delivered to the purchaser?

A. No.

Q. Can tires on which a down payment has been made but which still is in the possession of the seller be delivered to the purchaser?

A. No.

Q. Can tires now owned and in possession of a fleet operator be

Ministers Have Annual Exchange of Pulpits

Sunday morning congregations in Arlington welcomed visiting preachers. It was annual pulpit exchange Sunday and most of the Protestant ministers preached in churches other than their own.

Rev. Richard T. Broeg, minister of the Heights Methodist, visited the First Baptist church, while his pulpit was occupied by Rev. John Nicol Mark of the First Parish. At the First Parish was Rev. Robert M. Rice of the First Universalist, and at the Universalist, Rev. George A. Butters of Calvary Methodist. Rev. Grady D. Feagan of the First Baptist was at the Park Avenue Congregational, and Rev. Frank Landolt of that church was at the Calvary Methodist. Rev. Laurence L. Barber of the Orthodox Congregational and Rev. Nelson B. Baker of Trinity Baptist exchanged pulpits. None of the congregations knew in advance who was to conduct the morning service.

Obituaries

MRS. DENNIS E. JENKINSON

Mrs. Mary A. Jenkinson, the widow of Dennis E. Jenkinson, passed away on Monday in her eighty-second year. She was born in Dover, N. H. For the past twenty-three years she had made her home with her son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Jenkinson, of 22 Hillside avenue. Besides her son, she leaves a granddaughter, Miss Vera L. Jenkinson, and sisters and brothers in New Hampshire and Maine.

Funeral services were held in Dover yesterday afternoon. Burial was in Pine Ridge cemetery, Dover.

MRS. HENRY HUDSON

Mrs. Mabelle W. Hudson, the widow of Lieut. Commander Henry Hudson of the U. S. Navy, passed away last Thursday morning. She was born in Bridgewater in 1867, the daughter of Allan and Abbie Peterson Blackman.

After her marriage, when her husband was sent to Samoa and she realized he would be there for three years, she made the trip there alone. For two years, except for the wife of a missionary at the northern end of the island, she was the only white woman there. When there was an epidemic of disease among the children she nursed them, turning her home into a hospital, with the help of advice and medicine from the ship's doctor. When the United States flag was raised at Pago Pago, it was Mrs. Hudson who had the honor of hoisting it.

She brought back with her from the island quantities of Samoan clothing. Two years ago, when she gave up her home on Pleasant street, she gave this to the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain, together with an album in which were photographs telling the story of the flag-raising ceremony.

In Arlington, where she had lived for thirty years, she was active in the First Baptist church. Though she had never been a missionary work and had served for six years as secretary and one year as vice-president of the Woman's Missionary Society. She had also been the head of the Pleasant Street Group since the group system was organized ten or twelve years ago. For many years she taught a Sunday School class whose members have always kept in touch with her.

She leaves two brothers, Harold K. Blackman of Quincy and William A. Blackman of Somerville, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist church, with the minister, Rev. Grady D. Feagan, officiating. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery, East Bridgewater.

—Mrs. John P. Morine, 62 Marathon street, is at the Palmer House of the New England Deaconess Hospital.

"Lydia" Starts Sunday At University Theatre

Glamorous Merle Oberon, who is starred as an audacious Boston debutante, has four leading men in the new Alexander Korda romantic drama, "Lydia," which starts Sunday at the University. Merle's quartet of handsome heroes includes Joseph Cotten, George Reeves, Hans Yary and Alan Marshall. Other big Hollywood names featured in the supporting cast are John Halliday, Sara Allgood and Edna May Oliver. "Lydia," based on an original story by Julien Duvivier and L. Bush-Fekete, was also directed by Duvivier, the famous French director of such outstanding hits as "Carnet de Bal," "Pepe le Moko" and "The End of a Day."

"Moon Over Her Shoulder," the associate film, features Lynn Bari, Dan Dailey, Jr., and Joseph Sutton.

Hedy Lamarr, playing an American girl for the first time, teams with Robert Young and Ruth Hussey in "H. M. Pulham, Esq.," based on J. P. Marquand's best-seller novel, and opening Wednesday. The story of Boston and a Bostonian who settles into the groove of routine and tradition after one great love experience, was brought to the screen by King Vidor, literally from the pages of the book. Miss Lamarr plays Marvin Myles, the career-girl who becomes the one great love in the life of Pulham, played by Young. The story covers a span of years, tracing Young's experiences from youth to middle age. Miss Hussey plays the Boston girl whom Pulham eventually marries, as destined by his family. Van Heflin, Katharine Hepburn's leading man on the stage in "Philadelphia Story," portrays Pulham's friend and confidant, Bill King. Charles Coburn is seen as Pulham, Senior, and Fay Holden as Young's mother. Bonita Granville plays his sister, Mary, and Leif Erikson, "Bo-Jo" Brown, his football idol at college.

Short subjects that complete the program are a new Quiz Kids, "Polo With the Stars," a Fitzpatrick Travel, and "The Tanks are Coming."

War Conditions Tend To Increase Tuberculosis

"War conditions have a tendency to increase the prevalence of tuberculosis and the public must guard itself now more than ever against this disease which 'creeps up on you' more insidiously than any other," Dr. Frederick T. Lord, late president of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, Inc., warns in the second of a series of articles just issued by the Health Committee of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

"Increased fatigue and strain due to an increased tempo in work and play are apt to reduce physical reserves. Rest three evenings a week. Spend week-ends out-of-doors. Eat intelligently and your resistance to tuberculosis will be increased. The tubercular germ exists in almost everyone. It will remain a 'conquered' germ only so long as the general health of the body is able to keep it subjugated.

"Tuberculosis which used to go by the gruesome names of 'the great white plague' and 'consumption,' is still one of the greater killers," says Dr. Lord. "In Massachusetts, more persons in the age group from 21 to 35, succumb to this disease than to any other single cause. This unfortunate prevalence of tuberculosis at an important and productive period of life becomes more significant and menacing under the displacements of our economy arising in consequence of the present crisis.

"There was an increase in the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis in Europe, in Massachusetts, and in the United States as a whole during the World War. Already, in consequence of the present conflict, the disease is on the increase abroad.

"As has already been indicated, tuberculosis is largely a community problem. It is also of great moment to the individual with respect to his own health. If the disease is present, it is important to find it at a time when it can be successfully treated."

Your daily duties are a part of your religious life just as much as your devotion—Beecher.

Crowds Pay Tribute To William A. Corcoran

Friends crowded into Trinity Baptist church last Saturday afternoon, overflowing into the chapel, to pay tribute to William Albert Corcoran, who died suddenly last Thursday at his home, 45 Cleveland street. Flowers banking the casket, the pulpit, and the windows, lining the walls and suspended from the organ pipes, showed the affection in which he was held.

Among those attending was a large group from the New England Confectionery Company where he was salesroom manager. Four of the honorary pall bearers were officials of the company—Horace Ridley, president; Harry Achorn, vice-president; William Bogler, assistant treasurer, and Richard Clare, sales manager. Other honorary pall bearers, who also acted as ushers, were the members of the Board of Deacons of the church, whose chairman Mr. Corcoran was at the time of his death. They were Fred J. Hall, Harold C. Harlow, Ralph O. Daman, Herbert J. Wallace, Robert M. Boyd, Harry A. Earle, and John A. Hilson.

The services were conducted by the minister of the church, Dr. Nelson B. Baker. A quartet sang Mr. Corcoran's favorite hymn, "Come, Ye Disconsolate." Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Corcoran was born in Lexington and attended the Cambridge schools. He had been in the confectionary business for forty years and was formerly manager of the Cambridge office of Forbes Hayward Company, one of the three firms that merged with the New England Confectionery Company. He was a member of the Amicable Lodge of Masons of Cambridge.

For twenty-five years he had been a member of Trinity Baptist. He had served as Sunday School superintendent for ten years, as moderator more than once, as a deacon for many years and constantly on various boards and committees. He had proven himself a marvelous counselor. His tact, his humble spirit and his balance bred confidence, so that the universal tribute paid to him by his associates both in church and business was that he was a "wonderful man, a helper."

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Katharine L. Corcoran; a son, Paul Corcoran of White Plains, N. Y., who is traffic superintendent of three districts in New York for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; a daughter, Miss Wilma Corcoran; a brother, George Corcoran of Trowbridge street, and a sister, Mrs. Elsie Spaulding of Cambridge.

Returned Missionary Tells Of Japanese Invasion

An audience which filled every available seat of the Heights Baptist church last Sunday night heard Rev. I. R. Stebbins, returned missionary from French Indo-China, tell of the entry of the Japanese invaders in that country. Mr. Stebbins, his seven children and Mrs. Stebbins made an inspiring sight in the beautiful native costumes of Indo-China, as they occupied the entire pulpit of the church.

With the arrival of 40,000 Japanese soldiers near their station it was felt advisable to bring the family back to America. Besides rendering vocal trios and duets and violin solos, each of the seven children was called upon to give a testimony.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Walter Bridge, made special mention of the approaching series of revival services being sponsored by the church with Rev. Anthony Zelli outstanding national evangelist.

WOMAN'S CLUB GIVES

It was a very colorful party. Mrs. Grady D. Feagan, the president, very graciously welcomed everyone, especially the Arlington Selectmen and their wives. She introduced Miss Castine E. Swanson, president of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club, who, in a very pleasing manner, told of the work of that club.

To listen to well played piano selections is always a pleasure, and when the artists are a mother, Mrs. Mary Tower, and her daughter, Barbara, attractive in identical "mother and daughter" gowns of turquoise blue, at two grand pianos, a picture to look at, the pleasure is greatly increased.

After the piano selections came Bertram Adams in a psychological demonstration, "It Is Fun to Be Fooled." The previous announcement had said it would be a program which would delight the discriminating, captivate the critical and arouse the apathetic, an entertaining demonstration of subtle impossibilities. And it proved to be all that and more. How did Fred Wyman's watch get in a box hanging on the wall? How did those cards rise up from a tumbler? How did Mr. Adams know the word in the dictionary? Ask Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield and Mrs. Stanley Kingman how cards jump about unseen. What was No. 11? Dr. Feagan is ready to be shown how Mr. Adams knew the serial number on the dollar bills. It was all very puzzling and exceedingly good entertainment.

During the reception to the officers of the club, the social committee, Mrs. Stanley M. Ryerson provided delicious refreshments.

Dancing to Ken Reeves' orchestra brought to a close a very enjoyable evening.

In the Sewing Department Mrs. Harry Conley does the cutting of all garments, while Mrs. Minnie Stevens supervises the sewing and giving out garments to different groups for finishing. Mrs. G. B. Northrup is membership chairman and Mrs. Clarence D. Hunter, the treasurer, is the one to whom donations are sent. Offer Radio Experience To Arlington Youth

Additional numbers of Arlington youth will be given the opportunity to obtain work experience in radio construction and repair, Carl Lindberg, sponsor's agent for the town of Arlington, has announced. The progress of the National Youth Administration's newly opened radio workshop at 1209 Massachusetts avenue, indicated that more than 30 young men and women could be accommodated, he said.

The country, faced with a shortage of workers in its vital communications system, needs radio technicians as well as operators, he added. The National Youth Administration offers work experience in radio short wave transmitter construction to all young men and women between the ages of 17 and 25. In addition to construction of short wave transmitters, receiving sets are assembled and repaired.

The workshop is to be operated on a three shift, 24 hour day basis, that as many workers as possible may take advantage of the opportunities offered. The youth workers will be on the job 160 hours per month until they have sufficient experience to hold jobs in industry. They will receive about $25 per month in wages.

"Cilla" Pitts Voted Most Popular Baby

After fifteen days of heavy voting for the many contestants entered in the 1941 "Popularity Contest" for children under six years of age, Manager Howard Parker of the Capitol Theatre announced today that little Priscilla Margaret Pitts, two years old, of 47 Elliot road, emerged from the vote counting, the winner by a small margin over many more of Arlington's young hopefuls. Little "Cilla", as she is affectionately called by members of her family, will be presented with the "Most Popular Baby Trophy" offered by the Capitol Theatre, which will carry her name and title, "1941 Winner" engraved on its base. This will serve as a life long testimonial from her many good friends in Arlington, who have most appropriately dubbed her 1941's most popular child.

Many Trained First Aiders

Henry W. Schreiber, Jr., chairman of first aid, reported that 200 women in the civilian defense school have received First Aid instruction. Because of the rising need of instructors in Arlington a group of key people in Arlington were given a course by Mr. Hanson and there are now 19 qualified instructors who are instructing 16 classes in connection with the air raid wardens and the auxiliary police with 560 enrolled. There are also 11 other classes now under way with an enrollment of 350. When the present group has completed their first aid training the town will have 1254 trained first aiders, a record of which the local Red Cross Branch may well be proud.

The following are the instructors in First Aid who are serving the Arlington Branch at the present time: Wm. T. Anderson, Jr., Mrs. George W. Bowen, Mrs. Morand F. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Farnsworth, Mrs. Charles R. Freeman, Rodney Gott, Horace H. Homer, Mrs. Clifford E. Lansil, Roger L. LaRue, Mrs. Fletcher S. Lawson, Miss Alice O. Locke, Miss Elizabeth W. Marsh, Dana T. Norris, Mrs. Joseph Peterson, Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham, Bernard G. Rand and Henry W. Schreiber, Jr.

Another high spot amongst the reports was that of Mrs. Carroll H. Beers, Roll Call chairman, who reported 832 new members, making a total membership of 3,543 and a total collected to date of $4791.38. This does not include money given by Arlington people in their places of business, for which Arlington ultimately will have credit.

—Mrs. Cecil M. Hunt represented the Woman's Guild of the Church of Our Saviour at the Church Service League meeting in Boston yesterday. Communion at St. Paul's Cathedral was followed by meetings at Tremont Temple.

Sullivan Substitutes For Bushnell at Church

Attorney General Robert T. Bushnell was unable to speak at the First Baptist church Sunday night on account of pressure of legal business. He sent as a substitute Assistant Attorney General J. Burke Sullivan of Boston, who addressed the combined meeting of the Men's Class and Adelpian Society on "Public Affairs and Government." He explained the activities of the attorney general's office and stressed the conditions imposed by the war.

Edward Hardy, president of the Adelpian Society, conducted the meeting. The music consisted of a duet by Miss Dorothy Mellen, soprano, and Miss Gertrude Mellen, contralto, accompanied by Miss Marian Stewart on the piano. The singing of the hymns was greatly augmented by Warren Patriquin playing the trumpet and Carlton P. Patriquin, the violin. Miss Dorothy Woodland read the scripture; prayer was offered by Dr. Feagan and the benediction was pronounced by Roger Floyd.

The speaker was introduced by his colleague, Harold E. Magnuson.

Scouts who have worked and are working so zealously in behalf of the Fund Drive.

At a short business meeting, the Council elected the following officers: Mrs. Kenneth Russell, commissioner; Mrs. Albert Wunderlich, deputy commissioner; Mrs. G. Howard Allen, secretary, and Mrs. Roscoe Elliott, treasurer. The Leaders' Association re-elected Mrs. Justin McCarthy, president, her assistant officers to be: Mrs. Carl Page, vice-president; Mrs. Lowell Gibson, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Rountree, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Ham, treasurer.

Mrs. Kathleen Pearce, executive secretary, presented the report of the year 1941, accompanied by shadowgraphs. These were made by Miss Mary Leveroni and Mrs. Carl Page and depicted the activities of the Girl Scouts in color and shadow.

Mrs. Pearce's report showed an increase in number of Girl Scouts and troops. The number of leaders has increased as more women are feeling that the leadership of youth is a most important defense job. These leaders have attended many training courses to prepare themselves to lead groups, to teach activities, and to serve the community. All of the program activities of the Girl Scouts are now being emphasized as useful learning in our wartime emergency.

The Day Camp and Camp Menotomy are added to the year-round out-of-door program and in 1941 the former provided 470 camper days for Arlington girls and the latter 3262 camper days. Both of these camps stress keeping physically fit and simple life in the open air.

Music was provided by a group of Senior Girl Scouts, including Barbara Peters, Norma Russell, Jean Sullivan, Jean Russell, Rosamond Flentje, Alice Carew, Jean Horrigan, and Gloria Marshall.

Phyllis Wyman, violinist, of troop 18, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. Clark Wyman, furnished incidental music.

A social hour gave the guests an opportunity to meet the speaker of the evening and to partake of refreshments provided by the Council and Leaders. Mrs. Russell and Mrs. McCarthy poured.

Talks to Pupils on Psychology of Charm

Miss Hazel Ganter, assistant director of Wilfred Academy of Hair and Beauty Culture, was the guest speaker at the assembly of the students at the High School yesterday afternoon. Miss Ganter talked on "The Psychology of Charm."

She said in part: "A person who has a naturally pleasing personality is indeed fortunate. However, the less fortunate can go a long way toward acquiring a pleasing personality by studying and checking their assets and faults and building up on the natural charm or attributes that they may have and hiding or covering up as much as possible the faults."

"The basic principle of all beauty and charm is absolute cleanliness. A person's charm depends on delicate, clear skin, free from blemishes or eruptions."

H. S. PUCKSTERS DEFEATED BY THIRD PERIOD GOALS

Two to One Victory Puts Melrose at Top of Greater Boston Interscholastic League.

Two third-period goals gave the Melrose High hockey team a two to one victory over Arlington last Friday night at the Boston Garden. This defeat, which was the Downmen's first, left Melrose the only undefeated team and gave it undisputed possession of top place in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League.

The game was fast and Arlington put up a terrific battle although Ralph Colley, the regular wing, was out with a strained ligament. Ralph Bevins did a grand job in the Arlington cage, holding Melrose scoreless until 1:08 of the third period.

Jack Cunha made the Red and Gray's first, and only, goal at 4:14 of the opening session with an angle shot through the Melrose cageman's pads. Ed Cahoon, Melrose's first scorer, made his shot on a deflected pass-out from Tom Cockrell. At 6:45 after Bevins had made a good stop, second-liner Bruce Gardner shoved the rubber through for the deciding goal. This was Melrose's sixth victory. The summary:

MELROSE (2)—G. Holmes; rd, Sutherland; ld, McNamara; c, Cahoon; rw, Spadafora; lw, Cockrell.

ARLINGTON (1)—G. Bevins; rd, Middleton; ld, Nolan; c, Beardsley; rw, Fowler; lw, Ritchie.

Melrose spares—Alkins, Gardner, Cronin, Allen.

Arlington spares—Cunha, J. Malone, R. Malone.

FIRST PERIOD—Arlington, Cunha, 4:14. Penalties—McNamara, trip.

SECOND PERIOD—No score. Penalties—Nolan, leg check; Cahoon, trip.

THIRD PERIOD—Melrose, Cahoon (Cockrell), 1:08; Melrose, Gardner (Cronin), 6:45. Penalty—Nolan, interference.

Officials—Mulrey and Sanford. Time—10m. periods.

Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at the Garden, Arlington will meet Cambridge Latin.

First Aid Books Wanted

The Arlington Committee on Public Safety would be glad to get Cross First Aid books from anyone who are not using them and will pay for them if they are in good condition. The books may be left at the office of the committee at Police Headquarters.

Cots and Blankets Wanted

The Arlington Committee of Public Safety would like owners of cots and blankets who are willing to loan them in an emergency to leave their names at the committee office in Police Headquarters. Arlington can take care of three thousand evacuees but there are not enough cots and blankets. Articles to be loaned should be marked so that they can be returned. They will not be taken until the emergency arises.

These DOUBLE-UPS unite meat course and salad in one dish

says Dorothy Greig

As mother used to say, "Nothing so rejoices my soul as finding a way to make one dish take the place of two." That's the way it is with meat and chicken salads. They're meat course and salad combined.

Meat and vegetable salad served in tomato-jelly ring and set in crisp greens is meat course and salad combined.

For luncheon or supper parties I often serve such double-up dishes. For them I start fresh with meat and chicken specially cooked for the occasion.

At other times, though, this same type of main course salad is a marvelous way to end Sunday's roast with a flourish and use up those odds and ends of cooked vegetables reposing lonesomely in the refrigerator.

Now meat, chicken or fish are dry. Therefore, to give them relish and zest in a salad, marinate them awhile beforehand in salad dressing. And the character of that dressing makes all the difference between just a so-so salad and a glory one.

The dressing I like for many of my meat salads is sharp and given extra flair and flavor by tomato soup. . . you know, the condensed kind that comes thick from the can like sauce. But here is the whole story on two of these salads:

Meat and Vegetable Salad
2 cups cooked pork, cut in 1/4 inch cubes
1/4 cup French Dressing with Tomato
1 cup cooked green peas
1/2 cup celery, diced
6 tablespoons salad dressing or mayonnaise
Cut roast loin of pork or roast fresh ham into 1/4 inch cubes. Pour the "French Dressing with Tomato" over the meat, and put in refrigerator for 2 hours, stirring occasion-

*French Dressing with Tomato

1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup salad oil
1/2 cup vinegar

Mix together the dry mustard and salt. Then add the remaining ingredients and beat with the rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Makes approximately 2 cups dressing.

And this same dressing is equally delicious when blended with chicken:

Chicken Avocado Salad

3 cups chicken, cut in 1/4 inch cubes
1/4 cup French Dressing with Tomato

1 cup celery, diced
1 cup avocado pear, diced
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Cut the chicken into 1/4 inch cubes. Pour the "French Dressing with Tomato" over the chicken, and let stand in refrigerator about 2 hours, stir occasionally so that the dressing is well mixed through the meat.

1/2 cup diced celery and avocado pear sprinkled with lemon juice just before serving, then blend with the mayonnaise or salad dressing. Serves 8.

Brackett P. T. A. to Buy Defense Bonds

Last Tuesday evening the Brackett School P. T. A. held their annual fathers' night. The program was conducted entirely by the men of the association.

E. Everett Adams presided over a short business meeting, during which it was voted to purchase three one-hundred dollar defense bonds; a patriotic gesture very gratifying to the president and members present. John E. Fuller served as acting secretary and Clarence A. Lundquist, acting treasurer.

After the business meeting a movie on the coal industry was enjoyed by the large audience and was followed by a quiz contest. Ralph O'Neill served as interlocutor, with Mrs. James Cox, Mrs. Robert K. Wallace, Mrs. E. Everett Adams, Mrs. Sidney Bowdidge, and Laurence Arthur, Foster Brown, E. Everett Adams and Brendan Meenan as participants, all seated on the platform, fathers versus mothers.

During the evening, Mrs. Bowdidge was awarded a prize for original P. T. A. song, both score and words of which are to be adopted by the organization.

Mrs. Norman Walkinshaw, chairman of hospitality, served refreshments, assisted by the men.

Mrs. Howard Ensor, the president, brought New Year greetings to the members. Mrs. Coolidge spoke for the United War Fund. After the business meeting, Eleanor Shute, contralto soloist, sang four selections, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin L. Allen.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Paul V. Chandler, chairman; Mrs. Ensor, Mrs. J. S. Coleman, Mrs. William S. Fairchild, Mrs. John G. Brackett, Mrs. Roscoe Patten, Mrs. Llewellyn Evans, and members of the board.

ley Cook, treasurer; Clarence Pierce, secretary. This slate was presented by the nominating committee consisting of Stillman A. Hardy, chairman; Arthur W. Glines and L. E. A. Smith.

After the delicious supper served by Roy Hamilton, President Doane introduced Lt. Warren E. Magee, retired naval officer, who spent ten years in China and who demonstrated his thorough familiarity with the Far East.

The speaker pointed out that the possibility of air raids upon our coast was very real and that our people were not yet awake to this danger. He hoped that we would not be like Great Britain, too late with too little. Singapore may well be taken by the Japanese and if it is, the situation would be serious, as it would open the way for naval and air forces through the Suez into the Mediterranean.

SAVE YOUR PAPER

Conserve paper! That request has been made to all the people by the government. Even before we were in the war, the government was using one-third of the nation's paper box production for arms needs, and now military demand will rapidly increase. On top of that, the armed forces have many other important uses for paper of all kinds. The cheapest forms of paper, such as newsprint, can be reclaimed and made into boxes and other articles.

When you do your shopping, get along with a minimum of wrapping. The National Association of Food Chains offers consumers five good suggestions when it says: 1. Don't ask for a bag when an item is already packaged. 2. Don't ask for separate bags unless necessary—or any bag at all if you have only a few items to carry. 3. Take groceries in cartons when available—then use the cartons as receptacles in which to save waste paper at home. 5. Remember to save on all kinds of paper.

Don't think the stores you patronize are being stingy when they stop using paper, string, tape and other wrappings in the wastefully lavish form we've become used to. When they cut down on paper use, they are cooperating with the government. This is just one more of the many ways retailing in all its branches, chain store and independent store alike, is serving the country now.

Every family can help in the conserve paper drive. Save all you can and turn it in when you reach a substantial poundage. The Army and Navy need it.

BE PROUD OF YOUR GIFT

Of special interest to everyone in Arlington is the annual meeting of the Arlington Branch of the Red Cross which was held last night. So greatly increased is the number of those who answered the annual roll call, so many are the workers who gather several days a week in the Red Cross rooms that the organization has become more truly a town project than ever before.

Last year the Red Cross had to meet extraordinary demands. It met them with efficiency. The demands upon it this coming year will be even greater, but there is no doubt that to meet them efficiency will be increased and that from the average citizen—the backbone of the country—will come even stronger support.

"Now we know what we have to meet," said Arlington's chairman in making her annual report. "We shall pray to be given clear vision. We have a hard task to perform and a costly one—to be done cheerfully and efficiently. We must not falter. The year ahead calls for courage and efficiency. The Red Cross must go with the army to the battlefield and to the aid of suffering humanity; to those who have no luxuries and few comforts. This work isn't for the chosen few but for the willing many."

"The strength and beneficence of the Red Cross represents unity of mankind of any race or creed. We are on a great adventure for a decent world. We must all put our shoulders to the wheel and eliminate everything of secondary importance."

"The Red Cross services must continue for relief to the victims of this awful war. We must all make our contribution in money and effort. Give—until we are proud of our gift."

TELEPHONE FOR AN APPOINTMENT

If some men have been busy since the first World War improving instruments of destruction, others have been equally busy discovering means of healing.

The result is that while airplanes carry farther and faster bombs that deal greater destruction and swifter death, while men, women and children are suffering more serious injuries, while disease is spreading, doctors and scientists have discovered new methods and new drugs to heal wounds and combat disease.

Not the least of these is the new method of preserving blood. Under this procedure, the red and white blood cells are separated from the whole blood and the remaining plasma is dried to a powder. This powder can be stored and when mixed with water it constitutes that part of the blood most important for saving life.

That blood can be so preserved means that you can give your blood today or tomorrow in Boston and that it can be used months later to save the life of a wounded soldier thousands of miles away. Already transfusions of such blood plasma have saved the lives of soldiers in Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

So the Red Cross is appealing to men and women in normal health and between the ages of twenty-one and sixty to give a pint of blood. This gift will not endanger or inconvenience you and will take only about an hour of your time.

The Blood Donor Center of the Red Cross is located at 691 Boylston street, at the corner of Exeter street. If you make an appointment you will not have to wait and the facilities of the center can be used most effectively. For an appointment telephone Kenmore 9060.

Sixty-Five Years Ago This Week

Arlington Ice Crop.—The action of rival companies in spreading the report that the ice on Spy Pond was so poor a quality that it was not worth harvesting resulted in a more thorough investigation by the Addison Gage Ice Co., and the discovery that their harvest field was covered with a crop which so far as regards looks, as well as real quality, was never excelled, and on Tuesday last they commenced filling their largest houses on the lower side of the pond. The hundreds of dollars they will pay for labor before their houses are full will make no considerable change in the circumstances of many of the men employed and we hope the weather will hold good until the entire capacity of their houses—some 70,000 tons, is exhausted.

At the vestry of the Unitarian church, last Thursday evening, there was a very pleasing entertainment, consisting of tableaux, etc., and a pleasing farce entitled, "Mr. Dunketie's Picnic."

A horse belonging to Mr. Pitts was frightened by a snow slide from roof of the Unitarian church, on Friday morning, and ran away. The shafts of the sleigh were broken.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The value of Arlington's fire alarm system had another practical illustration on Tuesday evening, when the ice tool factory of Wm. T. Wood & Co., was saved from destruction by the timeliness and directness of the alarm given. People returning from the entertainment in Town Hall (among them sons of Mr. Wm. E. Wood), discovered flames issuing from the upper and westerly section of the main building and an alarm was immediately sounded.

The young ladies at the Heights gave a leap year masquerade on Monday evening, in Union Hall, and it proved a very charming affair in every particular. The arrangements were made by young ladies, Miss Jennie Brockway acting as manager, assisted by Misses Alice Haskell, Mabel Anderson, Kittie Brockway, Mamie Reed. The matrons were Mrs. Brockway, Mrs. Dwelley, Mrs. Bridgman.

Several wedding receptions by recently married couples occur next month. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Wood are at home after February 1st, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Stevens on Tuesdays after February 1st. Thursday evenings in February are the reception nights of Mr. and Mrs. Will K. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howell Crosby have been holding their "at home" on Thursdays of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Walter Hilliard held their first evening reception at their residence on Mystic street on Thursday evening of last week and received a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Through the solicitation of Mrs. John H. Hardy and Miss Ethel Wellington, a group of ladies met on Thursday morning at the home of Miss Wellington, 16 Maple street, to help in the making of comfort pillows for the war sufferers.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities will be held on Thursday morning, January 25th, at ten o'clock at Mrs. John H. Hardy's, 24 Irving street. Mrs. Bert S. Currier will speak on "Charity and the Public."

The heavy rain fall on Saturday and Sunday, accompanied with unusually high wind, caused considerable damage to trees and washouts along some of the streets leading to elevated sections. One of these washouts was at the foot of Bartlett avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Peirce entertained the employees of the Peirce & Winn Coal Co., Tuesday evening at their residence on Academy street, which made a company of about fifty. This has been the custom of Mr. Peirce for a number of years and the evening is looked forward to with a good deal of anticipated pleasure by the men and their wives.

The young men and women, making up the membership of the T. Y. G. Club, gave a pretty dancing party Friday evening of last week, in Odd Fellows Hall, Associates Building, which was attended by some sixty and matronized by Miss May Scannell, who was in yellow satin, Mrs. Thos. J. Robinson and Mrs. Michael Toomey, both in black evening gowns. Those in charge of the evening were Miss Mary A. Cody, Miss Louise M. Robinson, Miss Helen F. Scannell, Miss Gertrude L. Toomey, Miss Ruth E. White, Chester McNichol, Walter T. Fandel, Arthur F. McGarry, Joseph A. Schuff and William J. Toomey.

the very gathering before him; where those who were born on foreign soil had gathered and were expressing themselves."

Michael Fredo, past grand venerable of the order, in his talk brought out the fervent patriotism that was in the hearts of the various lodges of the state and that Italians everywhere in this country were volunteering for service in the armed forces.

Representative Nelson B. Crosby said "that he was thrilled, to have brought to his attention, the various ways in which the Italian-Americans were springing to the aid of their adopted country."

Chief Archie F. Bullock of the police and Chief Daniel B. Tierney of the fire department, in their brief remarks gave praise to their many friends of Italian extraction.

Representative Hollis M. Gott laid stress on the fact that "the support of just such organizations as the Sons of Italy was the answer to the dictators who were aiming at world domination."

Three Points in Program

George A. Harris, president of the Boston Newspaper Guild, summarized the remarks of the gathering when he offered his three points to the program. He said, "First, we must have a firm belief in God; second, we must support President Roosevelt's program, and third, we must forget factional differences and selfish desires in the interest of national unity."

Salvatore Cannistraro, venerable of the lodge, thanked the members for their cooperation and fine support of his program for his term of office. He affirmed the Americanism of every member with the purchase of Defense Bonds by the lodge and their activities as individuals in the efforts of the town to prepare for any emergency.

Lieut. Daniel P. Barry of the police spoke on the friendships that had been his with many of those present, and stated that never at any time had he thought of them as other than 100% Americans.

Arthur Mansfield, publisher of the News, closed the speakers' remarks by stating, "It was not difficult for me to understand the worth of the Italian people of Arlington; that it is no disgrace to unite into groups such as the Sons of Italy. It is only such misdirected nationalistic tendencies as are carried out in Germany and Italy that are at fault. God does not recognize any nationality—He only recognizes that love, friendship and brotherly love are the ideals that are worth while."

Toastmaster Dente then announced that a monster rally would be held at the Town Hall next Sunday, open to all residents who were interested in victory through the common effort.

NEWS IN BRIEF

London reports the bagging of a new Fast Nazi bomber, with a 4,500-mile range, which suggests its possible use for attacks on the United States from French bases.

Germany, Italy and Japan sign a new agreement to safeguard "proper and appropriate distribution of military forces in preparation for operations of great striking power which will be of outstanding significance."

In London the Governments in exile of Greece and Yugoslavia sign an agreement looking to union between the two countries after the war. Instead of unifying Europe for Germany, Hitler brings unity against the Nazi.

Winston Churchill returns to England to face discontent and grave problems of the war. Will England again transfer successful troops (in Africa on the eve of certain victory) to strengthen the Pacific front? Singapore and Suez!

The last surviving son of Queen Victoria, Duke of Connaught, passes on at the age of 92. Princess Beatrice now remains the last of the great Queen's nine children.

Showing little signs of their ordeal except beards and soiled uniforms, the 1,235 men captured on Wake Island, by the Japs arrive at Yokohama, says Tokyo. This number, if true, must include the 782 civilians, as the navy reports 30 officers and 423 non-commissioned officers and enlisted men on the island December 7.

The Pan-American Conference of foreign ministers gives Argentine until Thursday to decide whether she will join the other Americas in a solid front against the Axis, whose agents are working against this alliance with threats of attack.

John L. Lewis writes President Philip Murray, C. I. O., and William Greene, A. F. of L., identical letters suggesting a "merger" of labor. It was he who split the A. F. of L.

Question:—Will this merger of labor forces intensify the tendencies toward control, not only of labor but of government? Slowly but surely we seem headed for some sort of a fascist state.

Greene seems willing to retire on a big pension. Murray (uncontested) says he will put the matter before the C. I. O. board January 24.

The Special Senate Investigation Committee assured of an additional $100,000, carries on its work. The Truman report finds nothing good. In this is its weakness. "To harp on mistakes in the past, in the present, jeopardizes the future." We repeat Winston Churchill's words.

A vice-president of one of the leading sugar refineries in the country estimates there will be available in 1942, 90% of our average consumption. Cuba and Puerto Rico step up production. Mrs. Roosevelt says since the consumers cannot hoard enough sugar to make it "worth while", they might just as well accustom themselves to a shortage immediately—she commends chain stores for requiring the purchase of a dollar's worth of groceries with every purchase of sugar. We seldom agree with our First Lady, nor with the Secretary of Agriculture, for that matter. P. S.—The United States sends sugar to Russia. Of course if we sweeten the world, we feel a shortage.

President Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau send telegrams of sympathy (thousands received) to Clark Gable. Says Morgenthau: "Your wife, Carole Lombard, died in the service of her country." She dies in a plane crash with 15 army fliers—after selling $2,500,000 worth of defense bonds in one day at Indianapolis.

University of California scientists tell government there are 500,000,000 pounds of natural rubber in the rabbit brush on the alkali deserts of six Western States. It can be collected, they said, and made into tires, tubes and other finished products without undue effort.

Need Combs and Hairpins Says Letter from England

Excerpts from a letter received by Marjorie McCann from an English friend living in Nottingham. The letter was written November 16, 1941 and took almost six weeks to reach its destination.

I have taken over one of the clothing Depots in the city as well as the evacuee work. It is very interesting but keeps me busy. It's grand unpacking all the Canadian and American crates; if you have anyone you know working for the American Red Cross or the "Bundles" please do tell them how their work is appreciated. The parcels are really sensible and everything can be used—the layettes especially are delightful. I think they are Canadian Red Cross. Everything is inside even down to safety pins, comb, tooth brush, powder, etc. Some of the things in the crates put in as extras as presents to be given with the clothes make us wild with envy. My comb is reduced to about 2 1/2 inches and one can't buy here for love or money. Hairpins, too, are a vanishing quantity. . . . What we do want badly is underclothes. None of the crates seem to contain second hand or new underwear. It is a game now, with the clothing coupons to cope with.

It has been good seeing the U. S. A. gradually coming into action. It seems slow and aggravating to us watching afar off; but we realize the complex problems you have to face, and it is only the same attitude to the general position as we had ourselves two years ago. We hear Raymond Gram Swing's broadcasts and Alistair Cooke and lately we have had Alexander Woolcott giving a series of talks. He has been really good. I do think there will be a long time, though, before the old States do realize the danger through and through. Of course, you have Japan nibbling on the other side of the country. All the labour strikes, etc., though,—make us fret. It is difficult to imagine your frame of mind to us, who have had a taste, perhaps small compared to the other European countries of what may and will come if we don't get down to the job. I know it must be difficult, being so far away from the actual activity. The Russian struggle is another respite for us:—the danger being that we mentally sit back and take it easy.

We have been very fortunate here—apart from the two raids in the Spring we have had very little damage done. It does seem perfectly assinine—the destruction, on both sides, of so much that is irreplaceable. I often think of the lovely places and things I saw in Germany which have doubtless suffered as our own have. We are very upset over the old London buildings. The Law Courts, Middle and Inner Temple, have suffered considerably—they were lovely places—though what are places or buildings compared to human lives?

On the news just now we heard that your coal strike problem is not yet settled. That's a bad thing. Our own coal position has improved recently as so many miners returned to the pits when the national call went out. Until one has had to do with a miners' district and families, as we have, I don't think it is commonly realized what a sacrifice this must have been to many men who by their own work, study, and initiative have left the pits and risen to other jobs—and now they must return to work below ground.

Don't over there get the idea that we are hard put to for food. Apparently there is an idea in some quarters that things are tight. It certainly is a brain teaser to plan out a week's meals but, good heavens! we have plenty to keep us going at any rate. It's fruit we, personally, miss most of all. Our one pound of oranges is eagerly waited for—comes about once in three months—and we used to have one every morning for breakfast. It makes our mouths water to read a recipe book nowadays. It's amazing what concoctions one can produce, though! We should be getting some tinned meat and fish on our ration points cards in December—from the U. S. A., some of it, I believe, thanking you.

I remembered one thing that may amuse you about the "Bundles". Some of the crates have lists in them compiled by the senders. These caused me no little worry at first because I couldn't make them tally with the garments! Now I am wiser and can translate "pants" to "trousers" and "tuxedos" and other strange sounding garments! In the office a week or so ago, a young man walked in—in civvies (we didn't see his Merchant Service badge.) and said "I'm from the Southern Breeze" just like a newspaper reporter saying "I'm from the Boston Times". It transpired the said Southern Breeze was a small minesweeper trawler and the fellow wanted some football equipment as the men were all very keen and wanted kit to play in when they did land! . . . All the very best Christmas wishes. Do send me a comb for a present!!!

Mollie.

man of the United War Fund in Arlington; Henry W. Schreiber, Jr. scout commissioner of Sachem Council; C. Warren Dillaway, Jr., assistant scout executive, and the masters of various scout troops.

In addition to the flag at the Town Hall, two others are flying in other parts of the town as a reminder that the Challenge of 1942 must be met.

Every citizen in Arlington will be asked to help to the limit of his or her resources. The campaign will continue until February 11, and early indications are that the public, now well aware of the gravity of the war needs of the nation, will respond generously.

In addition to the Red Cross and the United Service Organizations, the very important Arlington agencies which will directly benefit by contributions to the United War Fund are the Arlington Boys' Club, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the Arlington Social Service League, the Visiting Nursing Association, the St. James Branch of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, and the St. Agnes Chapter of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

We Can Make Our Community More Secure

In calling upon Arlington to give all-out support in the campaign of the United War Fund, Mr. Sampson said:

"Not all of us can shoulder a gun in the war which now threatens the freedom of our country, but every one of us can make our community more secure and thus strengthen the nation by contributing to the limit of our resources to the United War Fund.

"We welcome the Arlington Red Cross to the campaign for the United War Fund. No one can be unaware of the vast accomplishments of that great organization in time of disaster and in war. The fact that the Red Cross has just completed its annual roll call should in no way affect our attitude in giving again generously. This is an emergency and at such a time extraordinary measures are necessary. We are counting on, and I know we will have, the full-hearted assistance of the Red Cross workers in Arlington in bringing this campaign to a successful conclusion. We must win!

"The sons and the fathers who are now in America's Army and Navy need your help. They are depending on us to provide opportunities for recreation and amusement in the lonely months away from home. Part of your contribution will be devoted by the United Service Organizations to make the lives of our soldiers and sailors happier and more comfortable wherever they may be.

Foes Within Community
"But that is not all. There are foes within our community just as treacherous and destructive as any we may have to face from across the seas. They are poverty, disease, crime and discouragement. The social agencies in Arlington through which by intelligent and efficient methods we can best destroy these foes will share in your contribution to the United War Fund.

"Every dollar you give pays rich dividends in health and happiness and hope for someone, whether it be a sick mother, a cold and hungry child, a discouraged father or a lonely soldier or sailor.

"Never will giving gain so much. Let no one say that the people of Arlington cannot meet the challenge of 1942. We are united in war and we must be united in community help for those in need.

"Let no man feel that he can give less because his neighbor can give more."

His Conscience Hurt

Mr. Hummell of 25 Dudley street complained to the police Saturday night that a truck driver had struck his dog and refused to stop. Two hours later, John J. Zani of 38 Walker street, Somerville, reported that when he was driving a truck on Grove street he had hit a dog. He explained that he was reporting then because his conscience bothered him.

On Sunday morning, January 25, the pastor will preach on "I Am the Life". Jesus believed that the way to real life in all its deeper joys and feelings and truths lay in the acceptance of his gospel. Why is it that so many Christians are so far from being creatures of real life?

Was Jesus talking only about life beyond the grave? Was he talking only about an inward life? Was he talking only about a particular kind of life without having reference to the very wine of life? How may we appropriate that which is life indeed? The full choir will sing.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, January 25, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Golden Text will be: "God shall send forth his mercy and his truth" (Psalms 57:3). Other Bible citations include: "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever" (I Peter 1:22, 23).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth righteously, He directs our path. Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to begin aright and to continue the strife of demonstrating the great problem of being, is doing much" (p. 254).

You Are Invited To Visit The Daniel F. O'Brien Funeral Home

226 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington

One of the most modern Funeral Homes in the East has just been completed, and is open for your inspection at 226 Massachusetts Avenue, next door to the Capitol Theatre.

PRE-ARRANGED

During recent years, the idea of making some sort of arrangements for Funeral Services in advance of need has been growing.

Its almost trite to say that for years and years, folks have been taking steps to show that they realize that life will one day end, and that certain provisions for its ending ought to be made.

Why not take the opportunity at this time as you visit our Home, to talk Pre-Arrangement with us. Any family can afford Daniel F. O'Brien's Funeral Service. Your every wish met.

teer to act as captains and that each of these secure five helpers. The work will not last for more than half a day, half the volunteers working in the morning, starting probably at nine o'clock, and half in the afternoon. It will not be heavy—just healthful, agreeable exercise. In order to distribute to all sections of town, volunteers will be needed from all sections.

After each captain has lined up his helpers he should get in touch with the Board of Public Works—Arl. 0051—and indicate whether his crew wants to work in the morning or afternoon.

The success of this distribution depends on the initiative and willingness of the townspeople. There is not money enough to hire the work done.

1927, from Harvard College in 1931 and from Harvard Law School in 1934 and the same year was admitted to the bar.

He engaged in general practice of law with emphasis on taxation and general corporate work which involved the study of tax laws and other new laws and statutes passed by federal and state governments. He was employed as a law clerk by Alger, Dean and Sullivan of Boston in July, 1934, and was admitted to partnership, January 1, 1940. February 1, 1941, a new partnership was formed and the firm name changed to Sullivan and Worcester, whose offices are at 50 Federal street, Boston.

Mr. Sawyer is a director of the Menotomy Trust Company and has been active in the Community Chest and similar local activities since his graduation from law school.

The town counsel is appointed annually, the term expiring in April.

INSULT TO BOYS IN

SERVICE TO WORRY SAYS MRS. TAYLOR

that nucleus, after the war we'll take our rightful place in world affairs.

Allies Learned from Experience
Learning from the experience of the last war, the Allies have pooled their resources and are fighting under one command. This command understands small defeats and is tuned to "take it", knowing that ultimate success must follow the nations with the most resources. We cannot reinforce the Philippines because Singapore and Australia are more important. MacArthur is doing a grand work in delaying the Japanese.

The opinion today is that the four major factors in the war are England, Singapore, Suez and West Africa.

She expressed the belief that the Axis has the military and the propaganda edge and that the United States is falling down on propaganda. (Editor's note—We thought this country was doing it very well.)

The President's gigantic figures indicate that finance is to become less important—we are going to have the money anyway. With this subordination comes increased government management which will go on for years after the peace. Mrs. Taylor foresees either a modified capitalism or a magnified socialism. Nelson's appointment does away with red tape and confusion. After December 7th the automobile riders went out and with the auto's going our whole standard living will be lowered.

Hysteria in Civilian Defense
Civilian defense she described as hysteria and said that women were going around sowing terror when the most important thing in case of an air raid was to be quiet and self controlled. There is more chance of being killed by an automobile than by a bomb. If there is a raid it will be a suicide attack and will be quickly over.

With regard to the Free French incident in St. Pierre and Miquelon, she said that the government was using appeasement to spar for time. If it were not for the Free French, Germany would be overrunning Africa now. We must hold the Free French as, if Singapore falls, we will have to defend Suez from Africa. Moreover, we have a special interest in Libya since we have lent the government money and the natives are friendly to us.

Burma has disappointed England because the Japanese have gotten in and Burma favors the Japs, handicapping England in Singapore. Japan's plan, generally known, is to conquer in the East, advance to Kamchatka, bomb Washington and California and then sue for peace.

Although we are disappointed in the attitude of Argentine and Chile, Sumner Welles is to be congratulated on getting nineteen of the South American nations to sign the agreement.

Mrs. Taylor closed her talk with an appeal that her hearers talk with the neighbors and friends and find out how they feel and so meet foreign propaganda. It is surprising, she said, how many socially prominent people have their names on the F. B. I. list. Try to support the boys at the front, she urged, by spreading proper propaganda.

A third judge will be Miss Eileen Connor, proprietor of the Eileen Beauty Shop, located in the Arcade Building. Naturally she is a true authority on beauty and will lend the feminine viewpoint to an otherwise masculine board.

This beauty contest brings an added feature to the always popular dance music and entertainment of Ben Dudley's "Regimentals".

in to set up things for the morning. They were President Al Brown, Vice-President Wally Gorton, Bill Arms, Treasurer Ray Young, Frank Wilkins, George Miller and Bob Chambers.

Then at 5:30 a. m., the breakfast committee started their work. These were: Roy Hamilton, Emil Olson, Hilmar Ahlin, Earl Bolton, Stillman Hardy, Paul Chapman, Charles Armitage, George Miller, Al Brown and Joe DeSilva. At 7:15 the following "waiters" put in their appearance—Royal Nelson, J. Wilbert Anderson, Russ Thorburn, Cliff Goodspeed, Bob MacCutcheon, Bob Finicle, Lloyd Drake and Hod Hill.

After a hearty breakfast the men listened to a spiritual address by their teacher and pastor, Dr. Grady D. Feagan, and then partook of communion served by the deacons. To complete the morning activities the kitchen cleanup crew went into action. These stalwarts included: Mal Griffin, Cliff Gleason, Jack Pierce, Bill Fulton, Harry Etherington, Paul Killam, Tom Lewis and George Chapman.

Next Sunday, Dr. Feagan will teach the class after a busy Sunday morning, which will find him at seven o'clock conducting the Protestant services at the Cambridge Armory for the national guardsmen stationed there. Then he will preach in his own church at the regular Sunday morning service before addressing the Men's Class.

MANY CITIZENS SHOW THEIR AIR-MINDEDNESS

was familiar. He told the people to extinguish incendiary bombs with bags of sand or remove the bomb with a long-handled shovel. Be sure, he said, not to approach the bomb for approximately two minutes for fear of an explosion. Much of his talk related to incendiaries as he believes there is no defense against high explosive bombs, which the English fear much more than gas. Keep out of the cellars, keep away from windows and don't expose yourself to flying fragments.

The speaker allayed the fears of his hearers by minimizing the losses through raids, by reminding the audience that the total casualties in England were 42,000 killed and 60,000 injured out of 45,000,000 people, in about the same time that 80,000 people in the United States were killed by automobiles.

Parmenter Cubs See Performance of Magic

Pack 81 of the Cub Section of the Boy Scouts, associated with the Parmenter School, had a most successful meeting last week. The pack has been recently reorganized after a lapse of a year, and boasts 27 enthusiastic cubs.

Greig Gustafson of Belmont, son of the Cubbing Commissioner of Sachem Council, Albert Gustafson, entertained the boys with a half hour performance of magic, much to their delight. All members of the pack have now passed the Bobcat requirements, and one boy, Peter O'Connor, has already won his Wolf Badge and gold arrow. Several other boys expect to have their Wolf emblems by the February meeting.

Many fine pieces of handicraft were exhibited, and prizes were awarded to the five best. The pack is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, and Fredrick G. Link is Cubmaster.
